Verse 1

When John, the beloved, a prisoner for Christ
Was dwelling on Patmos alone
He saw in a vision a glorious sight
It truly did outshine the sun
With wonder he gazed on its beauty so rare
As marvelous scenes did unfold
He knew as bright mansions came into his view
This must be the city of God

Chorus

Oh beautiful city, great pearly white city
Someday I will make it my home
We're told that redeemed ones
Thru long endless years
Will live in that city to come

Verse 2

Then John saw the millions in robes of pure white
And free from the shackles of sin
Their songs of glad praises were heard near and far
Rejoicing they knew without end
No graves did he see there in all that fair land
No heartaches, no sorrow or care
No mothers were sending their sons off to war
For peace did abound everywhere
